Directory of Oregon Therapists and Professionals with the Post-Graduate Training Certificate in Therapy with Adoptive & Foster Families

The following therapists have completed a 100 hour course of study in advanced education and skills in therapy with adopted children and their families through Portland State University's Post Graduate Training Certificate in Therapy with Adoptive & Foster Families. This directory is a resource and does not constitute an endorsement of a therapist or adoption professional.

Families should contact each professional directly to inquire as to specialty, fees, experience, and services provided to determine the best therapist for their child/family. Families may also check the licensing boards to verify that the therapist is in good standing:

Oregon Board of Licensed Professional Counselors & Therapists

<http://www.oblpct.state.or.us/>

Oregon State Board of Clinical Social Workers

<http://bcsw.state.or.us/>

Professionals are listed by category of services provided: Therapist or Other Adoption Professional by region.

Antioch University's Certificate in Foster Care and Adoption Therapy Program:

Therapists who have completed the 90-hour post graduate course in foster care and adoption therapy through Antioch University's Certificate in Foster Care and Adoption Therapy Program in Seattle will also be listed if they are practicing in Oregon. Their entry will note the Antioch program.

Contributors:

Practicing Adoption Therapists who did not attend the program, but contributed to the development of the curriculum of the Certificate Program and/or are instructors in the course are also listed in this directory.

This list will be updated yearly and sent to all DHS adoption offices, and licensed, private adoption agencies in Oregon. A current list will be maintained on the ORPARC website at www.orparc.org.

More detailed information on the Post Graduate Training Certificate Program in Therapy with Adoptive Families may be obtained by contacting:
