Child Welfare

Material Title: Adoption and Disruption: Rates, Risks, and Responses
 Author: Marianne Berry and Richard P. Barth Books 1988 220 pages

This book analyzes the personal and social economy values of adoption and the changing characteristics of adoptive children and families, while providing models of psychosocial adjustment to adoption. The implications for child welfare policy and services are explored in depth with special attention to methods for identifying risk factors and to strategies for maintaining adoptions that have been identified as at-risk for disruption.

Material Title: Adoption Mystique, The
 Author: Joanne Wolf Small Books 2007 181 pages

Much of what's been written and said about adoption—the definitions, myths, interpretations, and so on—was generated by non-adopted persons, and often without benefit of adopted person's input. This book was written by an adopted person who hopes to paint a picture of the social welfare system that contrasts with the traditional view and sheds a new light on the situation.

Material Title: After Adoption: The Needs of Adopted Youth
 Author: Jeanne A. Howard and Susan Livingston Smith Books 2003 139 pages

The authors examine more than 1,000 adoptive families to find out how they are functioning years after the adoption. They analyze risk and resiliency factors associated with adjustment and examine differences in adoptions by kin, foster parents, and those matched with children for the purpose of adoption. "After Adoption" will help child welfare professionals to develop post adoption services to sustain and strengthen adoptive families and to better prepare parents and children for adoption.

Material Title: All My Relations: Impact of Indian Child Welfare Act on Foster Parenting (DVD)
 Author: DVD DVDs 2009 44 minutes

This DVD includes a brief history of Native Americans and provides background for the development of Indian Child Welfare Act. It reviews the importance of respecting a child's Native American heritage and participating in cultural activities. It includes comments from foster parents and youth in care. The DVD includes information regarding the recognized tribes in Washington state and discusses how to make initial contact and what to expect when attending cultural events.

Child Welfare

Material Title: Child's Journey Through Placement, A

Author: Vera Fahlberg

Books

1991 394 pages

This book provides a foundation of resources and tools to help professionals and parents support children as they move through the foster care system to adoption. At times it can focus on theory and practice but it helps families understand why kids move and how their moves affect them. This is considered a seminal work in the field containing practical and thoughtful information about special needs children. More current material on new neurological research and brain development was not available at the time this was written. However, this is still a valuable resource with insight on various aspects related to foster and adopted children.

Material Title: Clinical and Practice Issues in Adoption: Bridging the Gap Between Adoptees Placed as Infants and as Older Children

Author: Victor Groza and Karen F. Roseberg

Books

1998 165 pages

This book is intended for all those affected by and interested in adoption. The contents are written by a variety of experts in the adoption field and examine topics such as treatment issues for adoptees placed at different ages, search and reunion, ethics, infertility, shared identity issues, and the ongoing need for adoption support.

Material Title: Creating Sexual Safety in Adoption and Foster Care (2 CDs)

Author: NACAC Conference

CDs

2011 84 minutes

This material is a recording from the NACAC Conference in August 2011. Presented by Wayne Duehn, School of Social Work, University of Texas at Arlington (retired). In this session, workers will develop knowledge and skills to help parents address the needs of adopted children who have been sexually abused. Discover how to enable parents to create a healing milieu to counteract the negative impact of trauma on a child's psychosocial and cognitive development, and to enhance positive self-esteem. Learn how to help adoptive families become the central ingredient in their children's recovery.

Material Title: Deepest Well: Healing the Long-Term Effects of Childhood Adversity, The

Author: Nadine Burke Harris

Books

2018 272 pages

Through storytelling that delivers both scientific insight and moving stories of personal impact, Burke Harris illuminates her journey of discovery, from research labs nationwide to her own pediatric practice in San Francisco's Bayview-Hunters Point. For anyone who has faced a difficult childhood, or who cares about the millions of children who do, the innovative and acclaimed health interventions outlined in The Deepest Well will represent vitally important hope for change.

Material Title: Families at Risk: A guide to understanding and protecting children and care providers involved in out-of-home or adoptive care

Author: Jodee Kulp

Books

1993 399 pages

This book offers an almost encyclopedic look at the difficult task of raising children who have a relationship with the child welfare system. Filled with quotes, charts, lists, illustrations, anecdotes and insight, it is intended as a guide through the maze of hoops, barriers and pitfalls that surrogate families and out-of-home children face.

Material Title: Finding Hope in Despair: Clinical Studies in Infant Mental Health

Author: Marian Birch

Books

2008 340 pages

One of the most difficult challenges face by infant mental health professionals is that not all cases have happy endings. Most case studies describe successful interventions, leaving few resources to help professionals deal with cases that can feel like "heartbreaking failures." Whatever the cause – an abrupt end to therapy or an unsuccessful case can leave a professional with feelings of confusion, despair, and even anger. Finding Hope in Despair uses a unique format to present a series of detailed case studies of interventions that were not successful. The author of each case study provides the facts of the case and, even more important, reflects on feelings generated by the failure of the intervention. Each case study is followed by a chapter of analysis by another clinician who reviews the case, discusses the challenges and obstacles that prevented a successful resolution, highlights the emotional impact on the clinician, and summarizes the lessons that can be learned.

Child Welfare

Material Title: Foster Care: One Dog's Story of Change

Author: Julia Cook

Children's Books

4/3/18

32

▣ this heartfelt story from the bestselling author of My Mouth is a Volcano!, Foster meets new friends and a kind foster mom who help him navigate the fears and feelings associated with going into foster care. Foster has lived with his mom and "sometimes dad" all of his life...until now. And like so many others entering foster care, he has more questions than answers and so many new feelings to deal with.

"I don't know what's going to happen to me. Will I end up being like Zeke? Will I have a new forever mom? Can I visit my mom once a week?"

"I have so much going on inside me right now. I feel angry, guilty, scared, hurt, and sad. But maybe the others are right. Maybe being here isn't so bad."

Written in an honest, approachable way, Foster Care will encourage children entering or already in foster care and help them understand they are not alone. Foster, Daisy, Zeke, Simpson, and Rex all have different circumstances which brought them to foster care. Together they talk through their stories and realize this is right where they need to be for now; under the caring watch of foster mom, Miss Beulah.

Material Title: Helping Children Heal from Trauma: What Parents and Caregivers Need to Know (CD)

Author: Sue Badeau

CDs

8/5/2011 15 minutes

Presented by Sue Beadeau, Casey Family Programs, Pennsylvania at the 37th NACAC Conference 2011 in Denver, Colorado. Every child entering foster care has experienced some amount of trauma—if nothing else, removal from home and placement into care. Parenting a traumatized child can be challenging and stressful. The better a parent is equipped to cope with the emotional, behavioral, and verbal responses of children and youth to placement in foster care, the greater the child or youth's opportunity to heal. The presenter will engage participants in a discussion of the strengths and challenges of traumatized foster children and will share strategies for helping professionals and parents become more trauma-informed.

Material Title: Hootah's Baby* (Children's Materials)

Author: Joanne Green

Children's Books

2012

32 pages

Most children have happy, untroubled childhoods. But not all. There are some who are placed in harm's way, if even temporarily, by their own parents' lack of parental skills. When that happens, often, the courts must step in, in the best interest of the child. But when that happens, it is the child who often does not understand the dynamics of this very complicated situation.

Hootah's Baby is an allegorical story about a mother owl whose life-style choices have made it impossible to be an effective mother. The community steps in to ensure the baby's safety. It is not about whether or not the mother loves her baby. It is all about mothering skills and the child's need to be safe.

Hootah's Baby is a tool to be used to help children of court-ordered relinquishment and/or state custody to understand the complex issues that have led to their current life situation. Helps are included for the adult who reads this book with these children to be able to assist them to open windows of communication that will help them understand basic truths: They are not at fault; the courts are not the bad guys; and their mothers do, in fact, love them. They simply cannot parent any child at that point in their lives.

Material Title: In the System and In the Life: A Guide for Teens and Staff to the Gay Experience in Foster Care

Author: Youth Communication

Professional Materials

2003

The special challenges of coming out while in care are explored through stories by gay and straight teens and staff. Activities for every story make this book ideal for staff training or classes.

Material Title: Infants in the Child Welfare System: A Developmental Framework for Policy and Practice

Author: Brenda Jones Harden

Books

341 pages

Every day, maltreated and neglected infants and toddlers are removed from their homes and placed into the child welfare system. Although intended to protect the children, the very act of separating very young children from their parents and familiar caregivers can put those children at greater risk of developmental delays. The importance of quickly finding a permanent placement, especially for infants, cannot be overstated. In Infants in the Child Welfare System, Brenda Jones Harden presents a detailed examination of the dangers faced when very young children are unable to bond with a safe dependable caregiver. Using extensive research, her work explains basic theories of child development that are especially relevant to the experiences of infants and toddlers in the child welfare system.

Material Title: Medications, Behavioral Management and Child Welfare

Author: J.P. Bourguignon

Books

71 pages

This book describes indications and contra-indications for medications prescribed to treat behavioral problems in "systems children."

Child Welfare

Material Title: Microscope with a Wide-Angle Lens, The: A Complete Look at Your Adopted Child Using a Bio-Psycho-Social Model (2 CDs)

Author: James Kagan and Richard Delaney CDs 852011 28 minutes

Presented by James Kagan, pediatrician/psychiatrist, Colorado and Richard Delaney of Hawaii Behavioral Health, Texas at the 37th NACAC Conference 2011 in Denver, Colorado. This workshop will address how the bio-psycho-social assessment of troubled adopted children and youth permits adoptive parents to be better advocates, more informed treatment team members in working with helping professionals, and more knowledgeable observers and caregivers of their children.

Material Title: Mobility Mapping Training Video (DVD)

Author: Seneca Family of Agencies DVDs 15 minutes

Child Welfare

Material Title: Tackling the tough stuff: a home visitor's guide to supporting families at risk
Author: Angela M., Stephan A. Viehweg Tomlin Books 2016 228 pages

Home visits with at-risk families present unique, complex challenges that professionals must be ready to address with skill and sensitivity. The problem-solving framework in this practical guide will help home visitors manage their on-the-job challenges--and support and empower vulnerable families of children birth to 3.

The authors' PAUSE framework (Percieve, Ask, Understand, Strategize, and Evaluate) walks home visitors through the entire process of addressing problems, from recognizing a difficult situation to evaluating the chose action steps. Readers will learn how to apply the framework in real-world situations as they:

- partner with parents to understand their perspectives
- take direct action to help solve key challenges (self-regulation, sleeping problems, feeding issues, biting and hitting, meltdowns, cooperating and following directions, fears and separation anxiety)
- skillfully blend relationships-based and reflective practice approaches
- understand what's behind children's challenging behaviors
- work sensitvely with families facing difficult situations, including domestic violence, substance abuse, and mental illness
- set appropriate boundaries with families
- use self-care strategies to addresss symptoms of burnout

Readers will get a wealth of practical materials, including helpful sample dialogues and reproducible materials on exploring challenging behaviors, discussing difficult topics, helping parents improve their skills, and more. (Reproducible materials are included in this book and are available online.) With this essential giude, home visitors will provide effective support for at risk families--and equip them with skills they'll use long after the visit is over.

Material Title: Tender Years, The: Toward Developmentally Sensitive Child Welfare Services for Very Young Children
Author: Jill Duerr Berrick, B. Needell, R. Barth, and M. Jonson-Reid Books 1998 203 pages

Today most children entering the child welfare system are very young, and, in most large states, infants are the largest group of children entering foster care each year. Social service systems are typically not designed for very young children, however, and therefore fail to serve their special needs. This shortcoming is significant because protecting very young children from physical harm is not enough; they must also be protected from developmental harm.

The Tender Years is the first textbook to address this critical situation. Beginning with an overview of child development theory, it examines child abuse reporting patterns and discusses placement in foster care, reunification, and adoption. It also looks at public child welfare practice, featuring vivid examples of the children and families served by this system. The authors analyze the differences between the foster care experiences of very young children and those of older children, with special emphasis on the way the child welfare system deals with infants. Based on a significant body of evidence regarding young children's unique affective, physical, and cognitive development, this text illuminates the interrelationship of child welfare practice, child development outcomes, and public policy. The authors offer a fundamental framework for decision-making in child welfare when young children are involved, and recommend specific changes in policy and practice aimed at moving the system toward greater developmental sensitivity.

Material Title: Toolbox No. 3: Facilitating Permanency for Youth
Author: Gerald P. Mallon Books 2005 81 pages

This book from Child Welfare League of America offers a permanency assessment approach that identifies the youth's current relationships and attitudes toward permanency, provides guidelines that promote permanency, and includes an array of practices, including family group decision making, circles of support, digital portraiture, person-centered planning, lifebooks, mentoring programs, permanency retreats, youth empowerment programs, etc.

Material Title: Transracial Adoption and Foster Care: Practical Issues for Professionals
Author: Dr. Joseph Crumbley Books 1999 114 pages

The purpose of this book is to show professionals how to help children and families make transracial adoptions and foster placements work. It describes specific ways that practitioners can work with transracial families to ensure that children develop positive racial and cultural identities. Cultural competence, recruitment of minority adoptive parents, and myths of transracial adoption are also addressed.

Material Title: Unconditional Commitment: The Only Love That Matters to Teens (DVD)
Author: Pat and You Gotta Believe, Inc. O'Brien DVDs 2007 52 minutes

There is a great need for prospective and current parents to become unconditionally committed to the children that they care for, particularly teenagers, in order to prevent disruptions in permanent family homes. The emphasis here is that every child in foster care needs one placement and one placement only, and the challenges to unconditional commitment are explored and addressed. This is the story behind the enormously successful older teen adoption agency, and includes many of the staff, foster and adoptive parents, along with the children they have taken into their hearts and lives.

Child Welfare

Material Title: Young Children and Foster Care: A Guide for Professionals

Author: Judith A. Silver, Barbara J. Amster, and Trude Haecker Books 1999 509 pages

Infants and young children entering the child welfare system often have histories of abuse, neglect, and fragmented medical care. This book helps human services professionals meet these children's special needs as it proposes models for intervention and provides expert advice on often-overlooked aspects of care, including developmental and medical concerns, child advocacy, and early intervention services.
