Material Title: Mood Disorders and Trauma: Making Sense of Our Complex Children (DVD)

Author: Dr. Donald Federici and Heather T. Forbes, LCSW DVDs 2012 41 minutes

Dr. Federici clearly explains how trauma induced mood disorders drive much of a child's negative and acting-out behaviors. He gives insight as to how anxiety, depression, mood swings, compulsive behaviors, sleep difficulties, poor social skills, reactivity, and defiance all connect back to a child's inability to regulate themselves. Solutions that center on a parent's ability and the family's ability to provide an end to the child's fear cycle are discussed in this interview.

Material Title: Night Falls Fast: Understanding Suicide

Author: Kay R. Jamison Books 1999 311 pages

Weaving together a psychological and scientific exploration of the subject with personal essays about individual suicides, Dr. Jamison brings not only her compassion and literary skill but all of her knowledge, research and clinical experience to bear on this devastating problem. In tracing the network of reasons underlying suicide, she brings us the critical biological and psychological factors that interact to cause suicide and the powerful treatments available from modern medicine.

Depression

Material Title: Optimistic Child, The: A Revolutionary Program That Safeguards Children Against Depression & Builds Lifelong Resilience

Author: Martin E.P. Seligman, Ph.D. Books

Over the past thirty years, the self-esteem movement has promoted the credo in American homes and classrooms that unconditional positive feedback is what children need to make them feel better about themselves. But even though we are raising our children to feel good, they have never been more depressed.

To examine and reverse this trend, the author, a leading psychologist who has been studying depression for three decades, developed a long-term research study with his colleagues called the Penn Depression Prevention Project. Their startling finds prove that teaching children to challenge their pessimistic thoughts can "immunize" them against depression. The Optimistic Child offers parents and teachers the tools developed in this study to teach children of all ages life skills that transform helplessness into mastery and bolster genuine self-esteem.

Material Title: Post-Adoption Blues, The: Overcoming the Unforeseen Challenges of Adoption

Author: Dr. Karen J. Foli and John R. Thompson Books 2004 225 pages

Drawing on their own experience as adoptive parents as well as interviews with dozens of adoptive families and experts in the field, Drs. Foli and Thompson help parents address the stress and depression that can follow an adoption by focusing on adjusting their expectations of themselves, their child, and others in their world.

Material Title: When Nothing Matters Anymore: A Survival Guide for Depressed Teens* (Children's Materials)

Author: Bev Cobain Children's Books 1998 149 pages

This book, by a cousin of rock star Curt Cobain, is her way of making sense of his suicide and reaching out to teens who are sad, discouraged, or depressed. Part 1 describes the causes and types of depression and the connection between depression, suicide, and drug and alcohol abuse. Part 2 discusses different kinds of professional treatment and how to stay healthy. Throughout the book are personal stories from teens who have dealt with depression, survival tips that can help you now and for the rest of your life, and resources for more information, advice, and support.

Material Title: When Your Body Gets The Blues: The Clinically Proven Program for Women Who Feel Tired and Stressed and Eat Too Much
