Foster Care, General

Material Title: Aging Out (DVD)

Author: DVD DVDs 2004 90 min

Aging Out chronicles the daunting obstacles that three young people in foster care encounter as they "age out" of the system and are suddenly on their own for the first time. Navigating the transition from adolescence to adulthood is challenging for even the most mature and privileged youth. For three teens in urban New York and Los Angeles, however, making the transition to independent living is considerably more difficult. Lacking family support, they are suddenly forced to fend for themselves with no job skills, meager financial resources, and little preparation to survive on their own. This emotionally complex film is also a portrait of young adults struggling to overcome the scars of their troubled childhood in order to realize their dreams of independence and fulfillment.

Material Title: Another Place at the Table

Author: Kathy Harrison Books 2003 224 pages

Kathy Harrison has been a foster parent for more than thirteen years, hosting almost a hundred children. This book is an account of many of those placements; it is an invitation into her busy home and the lives of her ever-changing crew of troubled children. The stories that arise within this narrative are not all happy or easy, but they are compelling and very real.

Material Title: Back on Track: Information for Youth in Care (DVD)

Author: DVD DVDs 2006 30 minutes

This DVD is a film for and about youth in care of the state child welfare system. It is mainly geared towards middle school and high school age youth. This was produced by Washington State Department of Social & Health Services.

Material Title: Behavior With a Purpose: Thoughtful Solutions to Common Problems of Adoptive, Foster and Kinship Youth

Author: Richard Delaney Books 2009 156

Provides a practical understanding of and clinically relevant interventions for common problems of youth in adoptive, foster and kinship homes. Specific attention is placed on food hoarding, wetting, defiance, lying, stealing, and negative attention seeking behavior. The book also explains how the positive intent of adoptive, foster and kinship parents can often work at cross purposes with the motivations of the child. Numerous case examples illustrate the dynamics of a problem. The book firmly endorses the healing power of the family and is written from a strengths-based perspective.

Material Title: Birth of an Adoptive, Foster or Stepmother, The: Beyond Biological Mothering Attachments

Author: Barbara Waterman Books 2004 227 pp

Adoptive, foster and stepmothers, like biological mothers, find their lives completely changed by motherhood although they are not always granted the rights and privileges accorded to those who give birth. Barbara Waterman explores the common experiences that are shared by all those who enter the motherhood portal. She highlights the importance of wider family, community and professional support for non-biological parents and primary care-givers of both genders, and their children. A stepmother herself and a practicing psychologist, Waterman's writing is illustrated throughout with vignettes of children and parents from a range of backgrounds. She shows the important ways in which a non-biological attachment is both more similar to and more different from a biological attachment than is currently understood. In doing this, Waterman broadens the notion of the 'traditional' family, and offers a positive alternative to the myth of the perfect mother. All kinds of step-, adoptive and foster families and those coming into contact with them will find this thoroughly researched and personal book an indispensable guide. Barbara Waterman earned her doctorate in Psychological and Social Relations from Harvard University in 1975. After working through not being able to conceive a child herself and several unsuccessful attempts to adopt, Dr. Waterman became a stepmother to twelve-year-old twin daughters over a decade ago. She has a private consultation and psychotherapy practice in Oakland, California.

Material Title: Blended Perspectives Meeting Training Video (DVD)

Author: Seneca Family of Agencies DVDs 25 minutes

Surrounding her are members of her foster and birth families, and her case worker, as they come together for a blended perspectives meeting in support of her future. They are able to identify an extended support system and address common goals and concerns as Christina approaches adulthood.

Foster Care, General

Material Title: Child's Journey Through Placement, A

Author: Vera Fahlberg

Books

1991 394 pages

This book provides a foundation of resources and tools to help professionals and parents support children as they move through the foster care system to adoption. At times it can focus on theory and practice but it helps families understand why kids move and how their moves affect them. This is considered a seminal work in the field containing practical and thoughtful information about special needs children. More current material on new neurological research and brain development was not available at the time this was written. However, this is still a valuable resource with insight on various aspects related to foster and adopted children.

Material Title: Confessions of an Adoptive Parent: Hope and Help from the Trenches of Foster Care and Adoption

Author: Mike Berry

Books

2017 215 pages

Adopting or fostering a child brings its own unique set of challenges only another parent facing the same uphill climb could possibly understand. From parenting children with traumatic pasts, to dealing with attachment issues, to raising a child with special needs, it can sometimes be a struggle just getting through the day.

Mike Berry knows the loneliness and isolation you can easily feel in your particular parenting role—because he's been there. He's still there, and he wants to give you the hope and encouragement you so desperately need.

There are plenty of how-to guides out there on parenting, but this one-of-a-kind book is specifically designed to address your needs as a parent of an adopted or foster child. With a refreshing dose of honesty, empathy, and care, you'll discover you are definitely not alone on your journey and God has a very special plan for you and your family.

Material Title: Creating Sexual Safety in Adoption and Foster Care (2 CDs)

Author: NACAC Conference

CDs

2011 84 minutes

This material is a recording from the NACAC Conference in August 2011. Presented by Wayne Duehn, School of Social Work, University of Texas at Arlington (retired). In this session, workers will develop knowledge and skills to help parents address the needs of adopted children who have been sexually abused. Discover how to enable parents to create a healing milieu to counteract the negative impact of trauma on a child's psychosocial and cognitive development, and to enhance positive self-esteem. Learn how to help adoptive families become the central ingredient in their children's recovery.

Material Title: Emancipated Youth Connections Project: Permanency Stories (DVD)

Author: Seneca Family of Agencies

DVDs

10 minutes

This video shares participants' experiences through the 2008 project, "Emancipated Youth Connections Projects." The purpose of the project was to develop a model of service to find permanency for 20 young adults (ranging in age from 17-39 years) who had left the foster care system without having permanent and unconditional lifelong connections to at least one adult. Many participants lost contact with siblings. Each participant was supported to make connections and reach out to birth family or other who are important to them. Each one had a unique experience with the process. A toolkit was developed as a result for this project and is available through the SENECA website.

Material Title: Families Change: A Book for Children Experiencing Termination of Parental Rights* (Children's Material)

Author: Julie Nelson

Children's Books

2006 32 pages

Over time, all families change. Sometimes, when families have big problems, they need to change so kids will be safe.

A child's family might change from a birth family to a foster family or an adoptive family. That kind of change can be hard on kids. They may believe that the change is their fault. They may worry about their birth parents, and they may wonder if they can trust the new adults in their life.

This book can help children and families through this difficult change. The first part is meant to be read and shared with children. Simple words and realistic color illustrations tell and show why some kids get foster parents or new adopted moms or dads. The second part includes information and resources for adults who work to keep kids safe: parents and other family adults, foster parents, social workers, teachers, and caregivers.

With the support of caring adults, children who experience termination of parental rights can move from the pain of the past to the promise of the future.

Material Title: Family Diversity in Education: Foster Care, Kinship Care, Adoption and the Schools (2 CDs)

Author: Shelly Linenberger and Emily Tracy

CDs

8/6/2011 30 minutes

Presented by Shelly Linenberger & Emily Tracy of The Adoption Exchange, Colorado at the 37th NACAC Conference 2011 in Denver, Colorado. Children in adoptive, foster, and kinship families have unique experiences and needs—often founded on separation, grief, loss, and trauma. These needs and experiences can negatively affect their development and ability to learn and feel safe in a school setting. Families and child advocates can educate the schools and partner with them to reduce potentially traumatic school assignments, uncaring remarks, educational gaps, and conflicts.

In this model, a collaborative team engages in all forms of recruitment, including using investigative techniques to find kin, while preparing youth for permanency from mental health to educational perspectives.

Material Title: Foster Care Therapist Handbook
Author: Robert E. Lee and Jason B. Whiting Books 2008 480 pages

Divided into three parts, "The Culture and Environment of Foster Care," "Family Therapy Approaches," and "Important 'Other' Issues," this book, through 21 essays by experts in the field, focuses on the "relational therapy approach" which considers the whole relational environment for each child and endeavors to get all parts of it to work together for the child's sake.

Material Title: Foster Care: One Dog's Story of Change
Author: Julia Cook Children's Books 4/3/18 32

▣ this heartfelt story from the bestselling author of My Mouth is a Volcano!, Foster meets new friends and a kind foster mom who help him navigate the fears and feelings associated with going into foster care. Foster has lived with his mom and "sometimes dad" all of his life...until now. And like so many others entering foster care, he has more questions than answers and so many new feelings to deal with.

"I don't know what's going to happen to me. Will I end up being like Zeke? Will I have a new forever mom? Can I visit my mom once a week?"

"I have so much going on inside me right now. I feel angry, guilty, scared, hurt, and sad. But maybe the others are right. Maybe being here isn't so bad."

Written in an honest, approachable way, Foster Care will encourage children entering or already in foster care and help them understand they are not alone. Foster, Daisy, Zeke, Simpson, and Rex all have different circumstances which brought them to foster care. Together they talk through their stories and realize this is right where they need to be for now; under the caring watch of foster mom, Miss Beulah.

Material Title: Foster Parents Working with Birth Parents (DVD)
Author: DVD DVDs 2003 50 min

Dr. Vera Fahlberg talks with a panel of experienced foster parents about the issues of increased drug and alcohol related placements, the importance of communication with birth parents, and the need for early permanency planning. While the discussion focuses primarily on infant and preschool placements, the information on this tape can be applied to the care of foster children of all ages.

This book will be of immense value to agency administrators, policy makers, social workers, and all members of the helping professions.

Material Title: Maybe Days: A book for children in foster care* (Children's Material)
Author: Jennifer Wilgocki and Marcia Kahn Wright Children's Books 2002 32 pages

Will I live with my parents again? Will I stay with my foster parents forever? For children in foster care, the answer to many questions is often "maybe". Maybe Days addresses the questions, feelings, and concerns these children most often face. Honest and reassuring, it also provides basic information that children want and need to know, including the roles of various people in the foster care system and whom to ask for help.

An extensive afterword for adults caring for foster children describes the child's experience, underscores the importance of open communication, and outlines a variety of ways to help children adjust to the "maybe days" - and to thrive.

Material Title: Mobility Mapping Training Video (DVD)
Author: Seneca Family of Agencies DVDs 15 minutes

Material Title: Murphy's Three Homes: A Story for Children in Foster Care* (Children's Materials)
Author: Jan Levinson Gilman Children's Books 2009 29 pages

Being a pup in foster care is awfully confusing. What's Murphy to do when he's taken away from his family and placed in a new home, with new people, new pets, and... new everything? As he moves from one house to another, Murphy begins to understand all his sad and angry feelings and finds ways to cope. Eventually, he discovers what it means to be a "good luck" dog as he jumps and barks his way into a comfortable spot in his new home.

*Note to Parents: Author Jan Levinson Gilman, PhD, discusses the emotional experience of children who are in foster care, and provides caregivers with information on how to help kids cope with the difficulties of being placed in multiple homes.

Material Title: Open Adoption, Open Hearts (2 CDs)
Author: Terri Kirby, Lisa Rankins, Jennifer and M. Gerrits CDs 8/4/2011 27 minutes

Presented by Terri Kirby, adoptive parent, Lisa Rankins, birth mother, Jennifer Gerrits of the Saint John Adoptive Parents Association, New Brunswick, and Michelle Gerrits, adoptee, New Brunswick at the 37th NACAC Conference 2011 in Denver, Colorado. This workshop profiles two families' open adoption experiences. A birth mother and the woman who adopted her son will share their journey, which began on opposite sides of a courtroom. They developed a strong bond and learned about love, trust, patience, and understanding. In the second story, a parent and an adopted teen share how they gradually opened an adoption from foster care. The presentation will include practical information for parents considering connecting with their children's birth family.

Material Title: Parent 2 Parent: A Mentoring Program (VHS)

Material Title: Story of Megan, The* (Children's Materials)
Author: Daniel Gregg Children's Books 1980 15 pages

Megan is so anxious about the thought of being adopted that her tummy feels funny! She wonders what it means to be adopted, and what being part of a forever family will be like for her. When she meets the mom and dad who will adopt her she wonders "How can I fit into this family?" The Story of Megan addresses some of the questions and feelings that children may have when going into adoption.

Material Title: Tackling the tough stuff: a home visitor's guide to supporting families at risk
Author: Angela M., Stephan A. Viehweg Tomlin Books 2016 228 pages

Home visits with at-risk families present unique, complex challenges that professionals must be ready to address with skill and sensitivity. The problem-solving framework in this practical guide will help home visitors manage their on-the-job challenges--and support and empower vulnerable families of children birth to 3.

The authors' PAUSE framework (Percieve, Ask, Understand, Strategize, and Evaluate) walks home visitors through the entire process of addressing problems, from recognizing a difficult situation to evaluating the chose action steps. Readers will learn how to apply the framework in real-world situations as they:

- partner with parents to understand their perspectives
- take direct action to help solve key challenges (self-regulation, sleeping problems, feeding issues, biting and hitting, meltdowns, cooperating and following directions, fears and separation anxiety)
- skillfully blend relationship-based and reflective practice approaches
- understand what's behind children's challenging behaviors
- work sensitvely with families facing difficult situations, including domestic violence, substance abuse, and mental illness
- set appropriate boundaries with families
- use self-care strategies to addressss symptoms of burnout

Readers will get a wealth of practical materials, including helpful sample dialogues and reproducible materials on exploring challenging behaviors, discussing difficult topics, helping parents improve their skills, and more. (Reproducible materials are included in this book and are available online.) With this essential giude, home visitors will provide effective support for at risk families--and equip them with skills they'll use long after the visit is over.

Material Title: Tender Years, The: Toward Developmentally Sensitive Child Welfare Services for Very Young Children
Author: Jill Duerr Berrick, B. Needell, R. Barth, and M. Jonson-Reid Books 1998 203 pages

Today most children entering the child welfare system are very young, and, in most large states, infants are the largest group of children entering foster care each year. Social service systems are typically not designed for very young children, however, and therefore fail to serve their special needs. This shortcoming is significant because protecting very young children from physical harm is not enough; they must also be protected from developmental harm.

The Tender Years is the first textbook to address this critical situation. Beginning with an overview of child development theory, it examines child abuse reporting patterns and discusses placement in foster care, reunification, and adoption. It also looks at public child welfare practice, featuring vivid examples of the children and families served by this system. The authors analyze the differences between the foster care experiences of very young children and those of older children, with special emphasis on the way the child welfare system deals with infants. Based on a significant body of evidence regarding young children's unique affective, physical, and cognitive development, this text illuminates the interrelationship of child welfare practice, child development outcomes, and public policy. The authors offer a fundamental framework for decision-making in child welfare when young children are involved, and recommend specific changes in policy and practice aimed at moving the system toward greater developmental sensitivity.

Material Title: Unconditional Commitment: The Only Love That Matters to Teens (DVD)
Author: Pat and You Gotta Believe, Inc. O'Brien DVDs 2007 52 minutes

There is a great need for prospective and current parents to become unconditionally committed to the children that they care for, particularly teenagers, in order to prevent disruptions in permanent family homes. The emphasis here is that every child in foster care needs one placement and one placement only, and the challenges to unconditional commitment are explored and addressed. This is the story behind the enormously successful older teen adoption agency, and includes many of the staff, foster and adoptive parents, along with the children they have taken into their hearts and lives.

Material Title: Walk a Mile in My Shoes: A Book about Biological Parents for Foster Parents and Social Workers
Author: Judith A. B. Lee Books 1989 77 pages

The authors attempt to create an inclusive picture that takes into consideration the views and feelings of all persons involved in the lives of foster children so that foster parents and professionals can work more effectively with each other and with the child and his or her biological relatives.

Material Title: Welcome Home: A Guide for Adoptive, Foster and Treatment Foster Parents
Author: Christopher Alexander Books 2005 289 pages

This book directs parents in a wide variety of stages of caring for children brought into their lives. It begins with preparation beforehand, moves into the settling in stage with the establishment of relationships and expectations, and the last half of the book addresses a variety of emotional issues typically faced by adoptive and foster parents.

Material Title: Wounded Children, Healing Homes: How Traumatized Children Impact Adoptive and Foster Families
Author: Jayne Schooler Books 2009 269

Why don't our children return our love? What are we not understanding? What are we failing to do? These questions can trouble the minds of adoptive parents caring for wounded, traumatized children. Families often enter into the adoption experience with high expectations for themselves and their children but are quick to discover that these hopes are not realistic. This book addresses those unmet expectations and offers validation and solutions for the challenges that arise when parenting deeply traumatized or emotionally disturbed children.

Material Title: Young Children and Foster Care: A Guide for Professionals
Author: Judith A. Silver, Barbara J. Amster, and Trude Haecker Books 1999 509 pages

Infants and young children entering the child welfare system often have histories of abuse, neglect, and fragmented medical care. This book helps human services professionals meet these children's special needs as it proposes models for intervention and provides expert advice on often-overlooked aspects of care, including developmental and medical concerns, child advocacy, and early intervention services.
